

'How to...' Books

Here you can find the 'How to...' books.

These are Wiki books. That means that each co-counsellor can contribute to writing the pages of a book, reviewing or modifying pages previously written, adding new pages and making proposals for restructuring the book and repositioning the pages of the book. So when you have some information to share or when you read a page of the book and you didn't like it, or if you think a certain page could have been written better, you can do something about it.

At the moment there are the following books in development

- How to get on with... ways of using Co-Counselling and other suggestions for personal issues in your life.
 - Running a CCI event
suggestions for organising a CCI and other Co-Counselling events from feeling the initiative to finalising the accounts and the aftermath
 - Getting on with this web site
